RAJA4DIVERS – PULAU PEF

“Come as a guest, feel like a king and leave as a friend”

Pulau = island
Pef = split

Raja4Divers is located on Pulau Pef, a scenic exclusive private resort island in remote central Raja Ampat, West Papua.

The resort is under Swiss management and open year-round. Fostering co-operation with the surrounding villages in day-to-day activities, the operation supports the local economy by buying fresh fish and vegetables, using local materials, as well as employing and training many friendly Papuans from the nearby villages. Raja4Divers redefines a Raja Ampat diving holiday by offering an authentic Papuan experience, at one with nature without compromising quality, comfort and service.

The pristine beauty of Raja Ampat, both above and below the water, is truly unrivalled. Dramatic limestone island outcrops dot the azure ocean, while on the larger islands coastal mountain ranges punctuate the lush, verdant forest canopies that sweep downhill towards coconut palms on white sandy beaches. The incredible topside scenery is only the beginning - as soon as you drop beneath the water surface, a fairy tale wonderland is awaiting you. Raja Ampat is deemed a ‘species factory for marine life’, with scientists proclaiming the region as one of the earth’s richest seascapes. These rich reefs are home to 75% of all known coral species and more than 3000 species of reef fish. Conservation is active in marine protected areas in Raja Ampat and also in the area around Pulau Pef.

Pulau Pef is waiting to be explored, covered in lush virgin jungle, surrounded by spectacular bays, white sandy beaches, coconut palms, an array of world-class dive sites and snorkelling locations teeming with fish and critters, pristine blue water mangroves, hidden lakes, blue lagoons, limestone ‘mushroom’ islands, and ancient rock-art on karst cliffs, with incredible birds, wild orchids, monitor lizards, colourful butterflies and much more.

The best way to describe Pulau Pef in a nutshell is a ‘Mini Raja Ampat’ all in one!

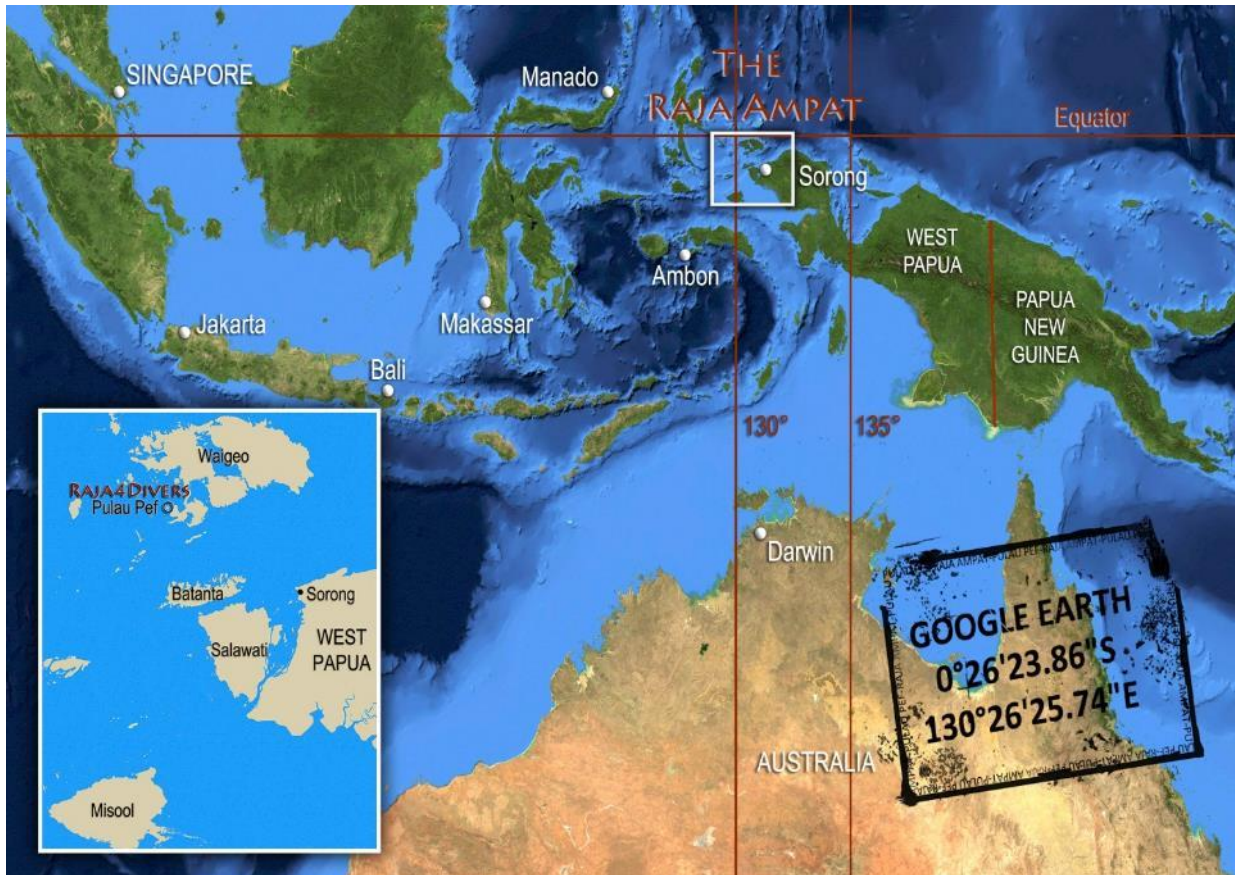

WHERE IS PULAU PEF?

Raja Ampat is located at the tip of the so-called Bird's Head Peninsula of West Papua in Indonesia.

Raja Ampat translates as 'four kings' and comprises four island groups around the Bird's Head Peninsula of West Papua, in Indonesia:

Waigeo in the North, Batanta, Salawati and Misool to the South. Pulau Pef is located 110km (68 miles) from Sorong and 48km (30 miles) south of the equator, in central remote Raja Ampat.

THE RESORT – OPEN YEAR ROUND

The bungalows, built on stilts in authentic Papuan style, are located on the Western side of the island along the coconut palm beach. They are generously sized and offer a unique feeling of open space. The design is based on tried and tested traditional Papuan building methods, which guarantee a pleasant interior climate.

Each bungalow offers space for up to four persons and luxurious comfort, yet keeping a rustic Papua style: large beds, mosquito net, Tablets & limited WiFi, huge terrace with hammock, beanbags and loungers, water dispenser, tea and coffee making facilities, refrigerator, safe, fans, desk and various recharging stations including adaptor.

In the adjacent private indoor/outdoor garden bathroom, hot and cold water, bath towels, soap, 3-in-1 shampoo and mosquito spray are available.

The resort offers a conveniently located professional dive centre, an air-conditioned camera atelier, limited satellite WiFi internet (but no telephone reception!), kayaks, a library, various board games, petanque, slack line, table tennis and chess.

The restaurant serves a delicious cuisine fusing local and contemporary flavours, with emphasis on fresh produce and local flavours. The 'bar' and the 'sunset lounge' is the place to meet and to share the experiences of the day over a cold drink.

Besides the diving and snorkelling, beautiful Pulau Pef also offers a host of other exciting activities close to nature - kayaking, swimming, jungle trails, bird-watching, climbing the resort mountain for a spectacular view or just relaxing in the hammock or lounging on your private deck and enjoying the breeze.

Not everyone is tempted to visit the tropics during the European summer months. A visit to Raja Ampat brings many advantages at that particular time of the year. Raja Ampat is located in the so-called equatorial belt, which means that there is no real wet or dry season but simply a tropical climate = always warm, plenty of sun, but also rain or wind now and again. In other areas of Indonesia the wet season is from October to April. Liveaboards use this time to visit Raja Ampat. At other times of the year only the guests of local resorts dive the myriad of reefs in Raja Ampat. Therefore, there are fewer divers between May and October, which means we are usually completely alone at the dive sites!

DIVING & SNORKELLING

The dive centre is managed by a professional PADI instructor, backed by valuable local knowledge and experienced dive guides. While the dive centre is located in the main building at the beginning of the jetty, the wet and dry storage areas are conveniently located at the end of the jetty where dive briefings are held and from where we board the boats or dive on the house reef.

An air-conditioned camera room equipped with a 27" iMac is available for camera set-up and storage.

Equipped with a Bauer Mariner 320-E and a Bauer M250B compressor, as well as a Nitrox membrane system, Raja4Divers offers unlimited diving - up to three guided boat dives daily plus a night dive and unlimited diving at the house reef. The use of Nitrox 32 is encouraged and offered free of charge to certified Enriched Air Divers. In order to become Nitrox certified, ask about completing the PADI Enriched Air Specialty course during your trip. Other courses only on request.

Diving and snorkelling conditions are good year round, with the water temperature a constant 28-30°C (82-86°F) and visibility averaging 10-20m. In Raja Ampat in general it is normal for water visibility to seem a bit 'reduced' due to large amounts of food particles present, which in fact nourish these rich reefs via tidal currents. Currents converging around a reef point tends to cause congregations of a stupendous diversity of fish schools, a phenomenon that has made Raja Ampat famous.

The thickness of wetsuit neoprene versus lycra skin is a personal preference. For divers and snorkelers it is strongly advised to wear a full suit as a barrier against hydroids on the abundant reefs and the possibility of marine 'stingers' in the water. The use of gloves is discouraged to enforce protection of the reef.

In order to maximise comfort and convenience it is highly recommended to bring your own soft-gear: wetsuit, mask, snorkel, fins and booties. Limited rental gear is available: BCD, regulator, dive computer, and dive torch. However, be sure to book items at least 60 days in advance to avoid disappointment.

The three dive boats are equipped with built-in sun protection, and are powered by twin Yamaha 50hp 4-stroke outboard engines, which makes them fast, quiet and fuel-efficient. They have been especially custom-fitted for maximum comfort with a ratio of one dive guide to four divers and a maximum of eight divers per boat. Each dive boat is equipped with standard safety equipment on all trips - first aid kit, emergency oxygen, tools, compass and anchor, as well as dedicated padded camera crate, drinking water and towels.

Dedicated diving insurance such as DIVERS ALERT NETWORK (or similar), which covers emergency evacuation, is mandatory, since Raja Ampat is extremely remote. Conservative diving and safe practices are strongly encouraged, dive computers are mandatory and the focus is strictly on non-decompression diving, with slow controlled ascents. An SMB (surface marker buoy) is mandatory, and will be issued - if required - to all divers for the duration of their trip.

Raja4Divers works with a partner travel agency that can book your international and domestic flights. Please let us know if you wish to use this service.

Sorong in West Papua, Indonesia, is the gateway city serving the Raja Ampat archipelago. No international flights currently arrive at or depart from Sorong, and all connections must be made from within Indonesia, typically requiring an overnight flight from Jakarta.

It is also possible to reach Sorong via Denpasar (Bali), Ujung Pandang (Makassar), Manado, Ambon, etc., although connections can be quite complicated.

On the website <http://www.nusatrip.com/en/flights> you will find domestic flights and rates for the dates you are planning to book. Direct reservations can be made online via the NusaTrip website and can be paid by credit card.

We recommend following airlines: Garuda Indonesia and Batik Air.

Important: Arrival in Sorong must be before 09:30h on Saturday.

The Raja4Divers transfer boat to Pulau Pef will wait until 12:00h at the latest in the case of delayed flights, which, according to the flight timetable, should have landed before 09.30h.

Important: When making flight reservations, please note that some domestic flights to Sorong leave on Friday evening, others after midnight = Saturday morning, then land in Sorong before 09.30h – so be sure to check both dates! Please also ensure that you plan enough time between the domestic and international flight, in general at least 3 hours!

HEALTH, SAFETY AND LIABILITY

All guests must sign a liability release upon arrival. Please consult your doctor for advice on inoculations!

Malaria is present in Papua.

Although there are surprisingly few mosquitos on the island itself, it is recommended to take care and exercise common sense, particularly at dawn and dusk. The liberal use of mosquito repellent is highly recommended, especially when passing through populated areas such as Sorong. Bear in mind that some malarial prophylactics cause adverse reactions in divers e.g. Lariam (Mefloquine), so please discuss your travel plans with your doctor/travel clinic.

All diving guests must be certified Scuba Divers, and must present a valid Scuba Certification Card upon arrival.

Divers using Nitrox must present a valid Enriched Air Certification Card upon arrival.

Dive computers are mandatory. All divers must use a computer, whether owned or rented.

Raja Ampat is a remote area and the nearest hyperbaric chamber is hours away. Diving is non-decompression and conservative diving practices are strongly encouraged. An SMB (Surface Marker Buoy) is also mandatory. Should you not have your own, you will be issued with one on loan.

Diving insurance is mandatory. All divers must have dedicated diving insurance (such as Divers Alert Network / DAN), which covers emergency evacuation and all divers must present valid proof or membership card upon arrival.

Travel insurance does not usually provide enough cover or does not include emergency evacuation in the case of diving accidents.

Please keep in mind that your diving insurance covers accidents only within the depth limit of your certification. For Open Water Divers (max. 18 m) we offer the Adventure Deep Dive course that will allow you to dive to 30 m.

Divers who have previously experienced DCS (decompression sickness) must bring a letter of clearance from their hyperbaric doctor. Oxygen is available on the island and on all dive boats.

Travel insurance is strongly advised against situations beyond the guest's or operator's control. Including but not limited to ill health, inclement weather, airline strikes, flight cancellations, trip cancellations, delays, and all other general mishaps.

Family and friends can reach guests at info@raja4divers.com, and the message will be passed on. Limited WiFi Internet is available on the island; however, there is no cell phone signal as yet.

- Money: IDR (Indonesian Rupiahs) are required for travel money, excess baggage charges, National Park entrance fees, dinner in Sorong at the end of your stay and other personal expenses.
You can order IDR at your bank or change cash into IDR with a money changer in the international arrivals hall at the airport.
Please note: There is NO exchange bureau in Sorong!
At the resort all prices are in Euro.
You can settle your bill in Euro, USD, CHF und IDR.
US Dollar notes should be in very good condition and printed after 2006, otherwise they will not be accepted in Indonesia.

Indonesian Immigration Laws:

Indonesia has abolished the chargeable visa on arrival at almost all international airports for residents of most countries. This means that citizens of these countries can remain in Indonesia for 30 days without a visa. Detailed information on Indonesian immigration laws here.
Passport must be valid minimum 6 months from date of exit from Indonesia.

- Hand luggage: Travel with a pack of tissues and liquid hand sanitiser (handy for bathrooms with no running water). Take a pullover or warm jacket in your hand luggage. It is often freezing cold in the air-conditioned airports and on domestic flights - don't risk CATCHING A COLD!

- Luggage: It's always good practice to label and lock your check-in luggage items.
