ALL IN ONE

Pulau Pef...

islets, beaches, blue lagoons, coconut palms, verdant jungle, ancient rock art, towering cliffs and thriving reefs - a mini Raja Ampat, all in one...

Long, long ago, Pulau Pef was a large compact island ruled by a peace-loving Raja (king).

One day, the Raja of Pulau Pef was awoken by a noise from the nearby islands and he overheard their plans to overthrow him and seize Pulau Pef. He was saddened and terribly disappointed. In a fit of rage, he smashed his hands against the majestic cliffs of Pulau Pef. The force was so powerful that the island splintered and broke apart, forming the many small inlets, islets and bays of today's Pulau Pef.

To this day, the handprints are still visible on the karst cliffs of the Raja's beloved Pulau Pef.
